

ProSites Achieves Fourth Consecutive Recognition on Inc. 5000 List

ProSites ranks #4582, marking another year of entrepreneurial success.

Temecula, CA – August 20, 2013 – ProSites Inc., leading website design and Internet marketing agency for dental and medical professionals, has been recognized on the prestigious Inc. 5000 list, an exclusive ranking of America’s fastest-growing private companies. This marks the fourth consecutive year that ProSites has earned a position on the Inc. 5000, an especially impressive feat this year, according to Eric Shurenberg, Editor in Chief for Inc. magazine.

“The Inc. 5000 was harder to get into this year than ever in its history,” said Shurenberg. “The median company on the list increased sales more than 140 percent since the start of 2010, while the average honoree grew a mind-boggling 468 percent. Those are results most companies could only dream of in the economy of the past three years.”

ProSites combines superior website design with effective search engine marketing techniques to help doctors maximize their online visibility and drive practice growth. The company’s comprehensive list of services also includes mobile website design, local search marketing, social media strategies, and advanced search engine optimization (SEO).

“We’re honored to be recognized by Inc. magazine four years running,” said Lance McCollough, founder and CEO of ProSites. “We continually strive to help our clients grow their practices in today’s digital world, and our achievements would not exist without their success. We’re extremely grateful to be able to improve their growth alongside our own.”

As an Inc. 5000 honoree, ProSites shares a pedigree with notable alumni, including Zappos, Levi Strauss, Facebook, Microsoft, Dunkin Donuts, and Pandora, whom over the years, have also been featured on the list.
